

UNIT–3: Technical Communication

Subject: Technical Writing (BCA – GTU Sem 2)

Q1. Explain Public Speaking, Group Discussion and Presentation Strategies.

Introduction

Public speaking, group discussion, and presentation strategies are important communication skills required in academic and professional fields. These skills help in expressing ideas clearly, confidently, and effectively.

1. Public Speaking

Public speaking is the art of delivering a speech before an audience in a structured and confident manner.

Key Points:

- It helps to inform, persuade, or motivate people.
- It requires confidence, clarity, and proper body language.
- Preparation and practice are essential.
- Eye contact and voice modulation improve effectiveness.

Public speaking develops leadership qualities and self-confidence.

2. Group Discussion (GD)

Group Discussion is a formal discussion among a group of people on a given subject to evaluate communication and teamwork skills.

Important Skills in GD:

- Clear and logical thinking
- Active listening
- Respect for others' opinions

- Confidence without dominating

GD is commonly used in interviews and campus placements to assess personality and leadership qualities.

3. Presentation Strategies

Presentation strategies are planned methods used to deliver information effectively to an audience.

Structure of a Good Presentation:

1. Introduction – Introduce the subject and objective.
2. Body – Explain main points with examples or data.
3. Conclusion – Summarize and close effectively.

Effective Strategies:

- Use simple and clear slides
 - Maintain eye contact
 - Practice before presenting
 - Manage time properly
-

Conclusion

Public speaking builds confidence, group discussion improves teamwork and analytical skills, and presentation strategies ensure effective delivery of information. All three are essential for academic success and professional growth.

Q2. Explain Interview Skills.

Introduction

Interview skills are the abilities required to perform effectively during a job interview. An interview helps employers evaluate a candidate's knowledge, personality, communication skills, and suitability for a job.

Preparation for Interview

- Research about the company and job role.
- Prepare answers to common questions.

- Update and review your resume.
- Dress formally and carry necessary documents.

Important Interview Skills

1. Communication Skills

The candidate should speak clearly, confidently, and use professional language. Listening carefully before answering is also important.

2. Body Language

Maintain proper posture, eye contact, and a polite smile. Avoid nervous movements.

3. Confidence and Positive Attitude

Stay calm and confident. Show enthusiasm and honesty while answering questions.

4. Subject Knowledge

Be well-prepared in technical and academic subjects related to the job.

Do's and Don'ts

Do's:

- Be punctual.
- Greet the interviewer politely.
- Thank the interviewer at the end.

Don'ts:

- Do not interrupt.
- Avoid negative comments.
- Do not give false information.

Conclusion

Good interview skills increase the chances of selection. Proper preparation, confidence, and positive communication help a candidate succeed in an interview.

Q3. Explain Negotiation Skills.

Introduction

Negotiation skills refer to the ability to discuss and reach a mutually acceptable agreement between two or more parties. Negotiation is commonly used in business, management, teamwork, and conflict resolution.

Objectives of Negotiation

- To reach a fair agreement
- To resolve conflicts
- To build long-term relationships
- To achieve mutual benefit

Important Negotiation Skills

1. Communication Skill

Clear and effective communication helps in expressing ideas and understanding the other party's viewpoint.

2. Listening Skill

Active listening helps in understanding needs, concerns, and expectations of others.

3. Confidence

A negotiator should be confident while presenting arguments and proposals.

4. Problem-Solving Ability

The ability to find solutions that satisfy both parties is essential.

5. Emotional Control

A good negotiator remains calm and avoids emotional arguments.

Steps in Negotiation

1. Preparation and planning
2. Discussion of issues
3. Proposal and bargaining
4. Agreement and closure

Conclusion

Negotiation skills are important for professional success. Effective communication, confidence, and problem-solving ability help in reaching successful and mutually beneficial agreements.

Q4. Explain Critical and Creative Thinking in Communication.

Introduction

Critical and creative thinking are important skills in effective communication. They help a person analyze information logically and express ideas in an innovative and meaningful way. Both skills improve decision-making and problem-solving abilities.

Critical Thinking in Communication

Critical thinking is the ability to analyze facts, evaluate arguments, and make logical judgments before responding.

Features of Critical Thinking

- Logical analysis of information
- Asking relevant questions
- Identifying strengths and weaknesses of arguments
- Making reasoned decisions

Importance in Communication

- Prevents misunderstanding
- Helps in solving problems
- Improves clarity and accuracy
- Supports strong arguments in discussions

Creative Thinking in Communication

Creative thinking is the ability to generate new and innovative ideas while communicating.

Features of Creative Thinking

- Thinking beyond traditional ideas
- Using imagination and originality
- Presenting ideas in an interesting way

- Finding unique solutions

Importance in Communication

- Makes presentations more engaging
- Encourages innovation
- Helps in persuasive communication
- Improves problem-solving ability

Conclusion

Critical thinking ensures logical and accurate communication, while creative thinking makes communication innovative and effective. Both skills are essential for academic and professional success.